Commencement Tonight School Picnic Tomorrow

Following the commencement exercises in the High school auditorium this evening, the present term of the public schools will be brought to a close, although all pupils will report in their respective rooms tomorrow morning to attend the annual picnic at Eldora park. Special cars, free transportation and three free tickets will be furnished each child, providing they are in their rooms in time to march to the starting point of their special street car.

The children of the Linden and Iowa buildings will be the first to get away and the special cars will leave Oneida street at 8:30 a. m. Next will come all the scholars up to the Sixth grades in the Jefferson and McKinley buildings, who will leave Sixth street at 9 o'clock. The pupils from the Ninth and Tenth street schools will follow on the 9:30 car, leaving Ninth street and the last cars carrying all pupils above the sixth grades of the Jefferson and McKinley and the High school pupils will leave Sixth street at 10 o'clock.

Each teacher will take charge of her respective room and will accompany the scholars to the park. They will remain there during the day to attend to their wants and several will be delegated as chaperons to return on the special cars that will begin leaving the park at five o'clock on the return trip. Special arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the children while at the park and with favorable weather it is estimated that fully 2,000 children will be in attendance. The dancing pavilion will be open both afternoon and evening and all other amusements will be running in full.

A good program of sports has been arranged for the afternoon for which prizes will be given to first and second in each event. Suitable prizes have been donated by the merchants and strong competition is assurred both in the races for the boys and girls. Following is the program:

50 yard dash for boys of the 7th, and 8th grades.

50 yard dash for boys of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

50 yard dash for girls of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

Ball throwing contest for girls.

Potato race for boys of the 7th and 8th grades.

Potato race for girls of the 7th and 8th grades.

Three legged race for boys.

Sack race for boys. Boys to furnish own sacks.

Obstacle race for boys of 7th and 8th grades.

Quarantine Violators Arrested

Mrs. John Hoffman of 119 McKee ave was before Squire Shuster yesterday afternoon charged with violating a quarantine. There was scarlet fever in the house and it was charged by Health Officer Clendennon that people had frequented the house and that members of the family had gone out in violation of the law.

The evidence was sufficient to convict the woman, but owing to the circumstances that forbid the carrying out of the penalties of the law, Squire Shuster suspended sentence upon promise that in the future the law would be strictly lived up to.

The Board of Health has been receiving numerous complaints about the violation of quarantine laws, and exposing innocent persons to dangers of disease, and the practice must be broken up. The health records of the town show that there was a marked improvement in the condition, fewer cases of contageon were reported and this is attributed to a close watch to prevent spread of disease.

The penalty of quarantine violations is extremely severe, being $50.00 fine and ten or thirty days in jail or either or both at the discretion of the court. The health officer has binding instructions to prosecute all quarantine violators and it will be done regardless of who it is.

Committee Will Begin Relief Work

The Western Pennsylvania Belgium Relief Committee was much encouraged in its "Sack of Flour Campaign" today by reports received from neighboring communities throughout the western half of the state. Chairman William Flinn, general committee declared that the cordial co-operation of outside towns would insure 200,000 sacks of flour for the war sufferers in Belgium. At a meeting in Pittsburgh last night, the local committees sounded the keynote for a western Pennsylvania ship, to be chartered to carry western Pennsylvania donations exclusively.

In the out of town communities, according to reports received in Pittsburgh today, even better progress is being made in smaller communities than in the big city. In the Beaver valley, Butler, Armstrong, Venango and Fayette counties, committees have completed their organization and are at work. In the Monongahela valley equally good progress has been made.

The out of town committees in many places are holding mass meetings, to enroll such persons who have volunteered for the canvass to be made on Monday, June 7th, which will be proclaimed as Bread Day, throughout western Pennsylvania.

Mayors and burgess in many places will issue a proclamation confirming the observances of this day, and business will be devoted to the work of benevolence in securing donations for the starving sufferers in Belgium. At the close of the canvass Monday, all committees have been asked to wire their result to the general headquarters in Pittsburgh. Facilities will be provided for rapid tabulation of the results and a typical election scene will mark the receiving of the funds, which will remain a monument to western Pennsylvania philanthropy.

Burgess A. G. Dunlap called a committee of ten together yesterday and formulated plans for the local campaign. Friday night at 8 o'clock in the High school auditorium there will be a mass meeting with a speaker from Pittsburgh present to tell of the suffering in Belgium and to assist the local commitee. One hundred men have pledged to lay aside all other business and engagements and together with their wives meet to hear the speaker and give their assitance to the local campaign.

Burgess Dunlap had pledged 500 sacks of flour for Monessen but the committee is of the opinion that the town should go some better. There will be a general canvass of the town by committees and sub-committees and when the ship load leaves from western Pennsylvania, Monessen wants it to be said that she too, did her duty.

A. N. Hood Takes Place On The Town Council

Council met in regular session last night. A. N. Hood was elected from the First ward to fill the vacancy caused by the absence of C. S. Shrader, and R. T. Dale was made the permanent chairman. Mr. Hood was present and was sworn in and took his seat.

The report of the burgess was accompanied by a check to the borough for $148.00, being fines for the month of May. The costs amounted to $123.00, that amount being retained by the burgess. The treasurer's report was also received and filed. The fire committe reported that no truck should be purchased until all competitors had made a test of their machine in town in the presence of the council. A motion was made to adopt this report. Two grade ordinances were passed on second reading and referred to the ordinance committee. The streets committee was authorized to repair Schoonmaker avenue between Sixth and Ninth streets. The street car company was notified to repair the street between the company's tracks from Eleventh street to the borough line. J. W. Cartwright, chairman of the water committee, and A. M. Wyant, solicitor, were authorized to proceed with plans for taking over the interests of the Monessen Water company in 1919. The franchise expires in that year and the borough will make a bid for the company's interests. Jules Albert has presented a bid for damages as a result of a sewer flooding his cellar. This was referred to a special committee. Council adjourned.

Accused Negroes Are Taken To Jai

Two colored men were sent to Greensburg to await trial on a charge of attempted robbery, both offenses having taken place at the Westmoreland hotel. Robert Ferris was caught going through the rooms on the second floor of the hotel about 10 oclock Monday night and placed under arrest. He was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Shuster and taken to Greensburgh yesterday.

Charles Wasko was sitting at a table in the hotel when a colored man entered and grabbed his roll, making a dash for the door. He was pounced upon by a number of men and when searched the money amounting to $20.00 was found. He was turned over to the police and gave his name as Mart Hamman. At the hearing before Squire Watkins he denied the theft and stated thot he came here from West Virginia Saturday to hunt work. He will have to stand trial in Greensburg.

Today at the Olympic—Third episode of the 12 vital questions of mankind under the title "When Justice Sleeps" in three reels. We are powerless to say enough for this great picture. Every scene is new and beautiful, very act is a great lesson to all of us. These pictures are the universal public schools where we learn not the A, B, C's but the lessons of our life, where we solve our life problems. Everyone must reap the benefits of our great daily offering. In addition to this picture we have "The Battle of a Running Bull," Sterling screaming comedy, but we think this particular two reel comedy has knocked the spots of Charles Chaplin and Billie Ritchie comedies. 1t

Nields Tongs But Must Pay For It

Alexander Simonak was given a hearing before Burgess Dunlap last night charged with assault. Simonak holds a position as helper in the Tin mill and yesterday struck J. C. Ashton on the head with a pair of tongs, cutting an ugly gash in his head that required several stitches to close. Mr. Ashton after receiving medical attention, made an information against the man. He was fined $10.00 and costs or $12.00 in all which he paid.

Local Lady Will Sing With Wheeling Choir

Mrs. Lethia Frazier Rankin left today for Wheeling, where she has accepted an engagement for the season with the choir of a Wheeling church. Mrs. Rankin has spent several months here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Hrs. A. Frazier of McKee avenue, and her host of friends regret very much that she is leaving. During her stay she participated in many entertainments and her singing has won for her a place of high esteem in the hearts of Monessen people. All who know her will wish her well in her new field of endeavor.

Workmen Busy On New Loeb Building

The Parsons Construction company of Brownsville, has the contract for the excavating for the new Loeb building on Schoonmaker avenue, and yesterday teams and men were started to work removing the old buildings and the earth. The contract provides that all work must be done within eleven days, and judging from the way things have started off, it will be done.

The old building removed yesterday was the last of the two shacks on this ground fronting on Schoonmaker avenue. They were among the first built in the town and formerly belonged to the Carothers estate. A new brick building two stories high is to occupy the ground. There will be three store rooms fronting on Schoonmaker avenue with apartments on the second floor. The Motz Lumber company has the contract.

Bigger and Better But Lower in Price

In this issue of the Independent, S. S. Jones, the local agent for the Overland, makes formal anouncement of the new 1916 model. The car arrived several days ago and has been sold. The new machine is a model of perfection and has a larger motor, larger and more roomy body and larger brakes than this year's model and will be sold at $100.00 cheaper than ever before, the selling price being $750.00.

The specifications of the 1916 model are as follows: 106 inch wheel base, 33x4 tires, non skid rear. Built in wind shield, one man top, 35 horse power motor, electric lights and starter and full stream line body. Mr. Jones is positive that he has the best bet in autos for the coming season and a phone call will bring a demonstration and immediate delivery is promised on all cars.

Another Legal Disgrace

The young state of Arizona sends out invitations, in envelopes with black boarders to the execution of five men. "The pleasure of your company," etc., etc. Maybe that isn't the way it reads, but the black border is appropriate. It is fit that all social forms be observed, for it is to be a gala day of legal vengeance.

The machinery of the law may have ground out error; black is the color for doubt. There may be a hell; it's pictured as black with despair. The river Styx is a black flood and its crossing is in darkness. Crime, brutality, recklessness, ignorance are black. Color is in everything we know. The unknown is black. Death, all black, reaches into life and drags that which he seizes into blackness.

Five men are murderers. They are legally black, body and soul.

Were they born to blackness? What of it?

Were they reared in blackness? What matters it?

Were their lives full of black opportunities only? Did society abandon them to blackness from their cradle to their murders? It is too late to ask.

They must die. No matter what their fitness so live. No matter what their possibilities of redemption, or usefulness or repentance. No matter how their mothers, wives, children, suffer and perish. Throttle them upon the ungodly principle of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, a theft for a theft, a seduction for a seduction, a hell for a hell. Into the blackness of death give them. Give God no chance. Christ is a failure. Justice is blindfolded lest she behold her own madness.

"The pleasure of your company at the legal murder of five men—with a black border, the monogram of Arizona and R. S. V. P. to be sure.

Forsooth, murder must have its formalities. Blackness, if black enough, is entitled to its eclat. To a rare treat the conventionalities are due.

Come early and bring your lunch. Don't miss seeing Arizona as a savage of savages. Get a front seat, and see the blood run.

Behold a people, great by the mercy of God, granted salvation by the agony of Christ, slay without respect for heaven, without mercy for humanity. A great show. Blackness striking at blackness, in the dark.

Five souls railroaded to hell, in the name of justice, after prayers.

Black executioner, black victims, black society, black justice. Observe the black borders of your invitation. Great credit to Arizona for originating something new in blackness. Those five men should not forget this delicate little attention by the great, promising state of Arizona, while choking in their nooses.

WHY IS WOMAN RESTLESS?

DESTINY OF NATIONS DEPENDS UPON CONTENTED HOMES.

By W. D. Lewis.
President Texas Farmers' Union

Why is woman dissatisfied? Why does she grow restless under the crown of womanhood? Why is she weary of the God-given jewel of motherhood? Is it not a sufficient political achievement for woman that future rulers nurse at her breast, laugh in her arms and kneel at her feet? Can ambition leap to more glorious heights than to sing lullabies to the world's greatest genuises, chant melodies to master minds and rock the cradle of human destiny?

God pity our country when the handshake of the politician is more gratifying to woman's heart than the patter of children's feet.

Woman Is Ruler Over All.

Why does woman chafe under restraint of sex? Why revile the hand of nature? Why discard the skirts that civilization has clung to since the beginning of time? Why lay aside this hallowed garment that has wiped the tears of sorrow from the face of childhood? In its sacred embrace every generation has hidden its face in shame; clinging to its motherly folds, tottering children have learned to play hide and seek and from it youth learned to reverence and respect womanhood. Can man think of his mother without this consecrated garment?

Why this inordinate thirst for power? Is not woman all powerful? Man cannot enter this world without her consent, he cannot remain in peace without her blessing and unless she sheds tears of regret over his departure, he has lived in vain. Why this longing for civic power when God has made her ruler over all? Why crave authority when man bows down and worships her? Man has given woman his heart, his name and his money. What more does she want?

Can man find it in his [illegible] to look with pride upon the statement that his honorable mother-in-law was one of the most powerful political bosses in the country, that his distinguished grandmother was one of the ablest filibusters in the Senate or that his mother was a noted warrior and her name a terror to the enemy? Whither are we drifting and where will we land?

God Save Us From a Hen-Pecked Nation.

I follow the plow for a living and my views may have in them the smell of the soil; my hair is turning white under the frost of many winters and perhaps I am a little old fashioned, but I believe there is more moral influence in the dress of woman than in all the statute books of the land. As an agency for morality, I wouldn't give my good old mother's home-made gowns for all the suffragette's constitutions and by-laws in the world.

As a power for purifying society, I wouldn't give one prayer of my saintly mother for all the women's votes in Christendom. As an agency for good government, I wouldn't give the plea of a mother's heart for righteousness for all the paths of office in the land.

There is more power in the smile of woman than in an act of congress. There are greater possibilities for good government in her family of laughing children than in the cabinet of the president of the United States.

The destiny of this nation lies in the home and not in the legislative halls. The hearthstone and the family Bible will ever remain the source of our inspiration and the Acts of the Apostles will ever shine brighter than the acts of Congress.

This country is law-mad. Why add to a statute book, already groaning under its own weight, the hysterical cry of woman? If we never had a chance to vote again in a lifetime and did not pass another law in twenty-five years, we could survive the ordeal, but without home, civilization would wither and die.

God save these United States from becoming a hen-pecked nation; help us keep sissies out of Congress and forbid that women become stepfathers to government, is the prayer of the farmers of this country.

A DIVINE COVENANT.

God Almighty gave Eve to Adam with the pledge that one would be his helpmeet and with this order of companionship, civilization has towered to its greatest heights. In this relationship, God has blessed woman and man has honored her and after four thousand years of progress, she now proposes to provoke God to decoy man by asking for suffrage, thereby by amending an agreement to which she was not a party.

Woman remember that the Israelite scorned a divine covenant, and as a result wandered forty years in the wilderness without God. Likewise man should remember that it is a dangerous thing to debase woman by law. Rome tried lowering woman's standard and an outraged civilization tore the clothes off the backs of the human race and turned them out to roam in the world naked and unashamed.

REV. DAVIES PREACHES FORCEFUL SERMON TO GRADUATES

A good sized audience gathered at the High school auditorium last evening to hear the baccalaureate sermon, which was delivered by the Rev. A. H. Davies to the graduating class of the local High school. The program as announced in this paper yesterday was carried out in full with the exception that Rev. MacDonald gave the invocation and made the announcements instead of Rev. Albrecht and Rev. Jamieson who found it impossible to attend. The musical numbers by the Male Chorus and the combined orchestra of the Methodist Sunday school and the High school added to the occasion with several selections. Rev. Davies had a well prepared sermon for the occasion and delivered it in such a manner that there was little doubt that he made an impression on his audience. His final words to the sixteen graduates were to the point and he told them that great things were expected of each and every member of the class, but above all that they take the Lord into their confidence in all their endeavors. Following is the complete sermon:

Text—"Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin."—James 4:17.

In one of His matchles parables, our Lord suggests the idea of individual responsibility. A certain nobleman went in to a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. And he called his ten servants and delivered unto them ten pounds, and said unto them, "Occupy until I come." On his return having received the kingdom, the conduct of the servants during the interval was reviewed. Those who had done well were commended and rewarded, and the one who had failed to do what he clearly ought to have done, was reprimanded and deprived of the power he abused.

Sooner or later, this is what is sure to happen. The abuse or missuse of power means its loss.

Knowledge the gauge of obligation and responsibility, is the thought of the text which I now present for your consideration. What is education? This is a pertinent question on an occasion like this. It is the developing and training of our faculties and power.

It is the function of education to prepare us for complete living. A horse is educated when he is trained to do all that a horse can do. A man is educated when he is disciplined to do all that a man can do.

Complete education includes physical, mental and moral training. We all possess powers far beyond what we ordinarily use. If they were only developed, what could we not accomplish? Our body is given us as the tenement and instrument of our mind. A proper education enables us to keep the body in a good condition of efficiency for the service of the mind.

Our intellect has all knowable truth for its range, and its purpose is subserved in the requirement and appropriation of truth. Our moral natures ally us directly to God, and is satisfied only in fellowship with righteousness. Merely cramming with information does not sufficiently educate. Exercise, practice and application of correct principles is necessary.

As the present occasion springs out of school training, we may be expected to hold our attention more particularly on that part of education which trains our mental faculties. What does education do for us?

Taking the broad view, the view which includes the moral or religious, as well as mental training, it does at least three things for us.

First, it imparts a zest to life, and supplies us with an exhaused fund of satisfaction from which to draw at will. It has been said "There are two large classes of people in the world, the suffering and the bored."

The latter is the larger class. Life is a drag to them. They seek all kinds of expedients to kill time, for their minds are empty, and their faculties and energies undeveloped or miss-directed. The educated have abundant resources available against this weariness and vapidity of life. Weary at times, indeed, they may become, but poking their heads among the stars they sing:

Tell me not in mourful numbers.
Life is but an empty dream.
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.
Life is real. Life is earnest,
And the grave is not its goal,
Dust thou art, to dust returnest.
Was not spoken of the soul.

Second, it supplies us with power. Place a man upon a desert island, and it is his knowledge, which will be his greatest security and aid. Place him anywhere and it is his knowledge which makes him superior to the problems confronting him. It makes man master of the situation as far as that may be possible in stead of a slave.

Look at the late Hon. William E. Gladstone, the greatest Engiish statesman of the last century. Some of you may remember that on one occasion, appearing before Victoria, with some state document to which he desired her signature, her Majesty demurred; whereupon Gladstone said: "But your Majesty, you must." "I wish you to understand, sir, that I am Queen of Engiand," replied Victoria. "Yes, Your Majesty, and I beg to suggest that I am the people of England, and you must," replied the distinguished statesman, and she did.

This is the man who was master wherever he appeared. He was equally self possessed and competent, whether in Parliament or in the University. This is the man who could run up one long line of figures and down another, writing the correct answer when the Chancelor of the Exchecquer was stranded. This is the man who could speak for four hours on the floor of Parliament, without a single flaw in grammar, rhetoric, or logic, and could recite whole pages of Greek before the faculty and students of the University, without a single halt or break. He was equally master, whether grappling with problems of state as England's Premier, or reading the Scripture Lessons in the Sunday service in the church in which his son was rector.

Addressing a company of University students, he said: "Young men, if you wish to live a life that shall be manfull, modest, active, diligent, humble, generous; take for your motto those wonderful words of the apostle where he says: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; think on these things." Everything that is good is to be before your view, and nothing that is not good. Whatever you aspire to, above all else aspire to be a Christian, and to Christian perfection.

Third, it enhances the dignity of life. Inscribed on Sir William Hamilton's lecture room walls were the words,"On earth there is nothing great but man; in man there is nothing great but mind."

While our minds are darkened we are slaves or prisoners. Ignorance begets superstition, prejudices, fears, imbecilities. The light of knowledge dispels these gloomy broods. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Who are the men who go about croaking and complaining that the world is growing worse? Are they the students of history who have followed the career of the human race from savage barbarism to Christian civilization? Who are the people that dread investigation of beliefs and systems, and are scared at criticism and research? Are they the scholars who look deepest into the real nature of things, and who have learned that truth alone is invincible?

Education enables men to discover the paramount importance and value of facts. What is the end of education? To enable us to live aright, to live a complete life, to discharge all our functions. The difference between one created thing and another, is that the one has more life than another. An animal has more life than a tree, a man than a brute, an arch-angel than a man. God is the source of all life. With eternity to develop in, how do we know where we shall cease in the attainment of life? But we cannot develop ourselves in the highest sense individually apart from others. "No man liveth to himself." We communicate continually with those around us. Experience has shown that we help ourselves best, in every way by helping others.

Take the men of great ability and achievement, and who will be regarded as having done most worthily? Nebuchadnezzar, Caesar, Tamerlane compel us to wonder. Moses, Paul, John Howard, Florence Nightingale, compel us to admire and esteem. We feel that they are the ones who hit the mark, who fulfill the higher ends of life. Jesus Christ came that we might have life, and that we might have it more abundantly. He is the supreme educator. He is our pattern. "He came not to be minister unto, but to minister." Who imitates him is his sister, brother and mother. Young men and women, do not neglect opportunities within your reach. Do not be discouraged by difficulites and hard pressing circumstances. Do not stop short of the highest. You are children of eternity. Prepare for immortality.

There is a practical application to the truth of the text. Knowledge is not merely for decoration. It is for service. We are required not to know, but act, do. "If ye know, happy are ye if ye do," said the Great Teacher. To what end do men see visions and dream dreams, if the breath of the worldly prudence is to befog the soul.

This holds good in political history. When Caesar decided he crossed the Rubicoon. Men who fail to decide, do not cross. They run shivering along the bank. It is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings. Failure to do what we know, and what duty demands is disgrace and sin. It is what is sure to happen, if when the guiding star shines we shut our eyes lest it beckon us. If when the pillar of fire glows, we turn our back lest it leads us on. If when the compass points, we cover its face let the unerring needle point an unwelcome course. It was Jean Richter who said these words as he drew near the end. "I have made all that could be made out of the stuff." The more you study that sentence, the more marvelous it will seem to you. That is what God asks of us, all that can be made out of the stuff. God demands all we are capable of, and nothing less should satisfy the demands of our own conscience.

Opportunities are golden and life is full of them. What a splendid thing it would be if the inscription on the tomb of General Gordon were true of each of us. "Who at all times and everywhere gave his strength to the weak, his substance to the poor, his sympathy to the suffering and his heart to God." We are responsible not only for what we know, but what we might know; not only for what we are, but what we might be; not only for what we do, but what we can do. Jesus Christ is the supreme pattern. Form and maintain companionship with Him. His throne is white. His thoughs are pure. His presence transforms. As one has said recently "He gazed upon distress with eyes all summer; but upon petrified hypocrisy he turned a wintry withering glance that froze with ice-like gloom and doom.

His hand was velveted with tenderness to wipe away the publican's tears; but it was glowed with steel to smite the pharisee's pride. Again all forms of injustice his indignation burned at white heat, as when billows of crackling flame roll across the wide-swept plains.

He was heaven's big hearted warrior that rode at the head of the human battle. Thus the light of his full orbed nature strikes upon the immortal soul like dawn upon the hills of earth. He and he alone, hath worn God's spotless thought-splendor through these aching, weary years. Once and once only, in the history of our kind, has thought's many colored beams melted into the super-solar blaze. Once and only once has a snow-white head domed a brain that passed its thinking into the crystal radiance of perfect truth. Life, death, character, joy, sorrow, sin, salvation, destiny, heaven; in all the higher mental pioneering, Christ is solitary, unapproachable, absolutely supreme. Therefore, not Plato, nor Moses, nor Newton, nor any of their kingly brethren, though the highest and holiest thinkers of the race, do we bow as we kiss the hem of thought's seamless garment. No, we look upon Him who was pierced, the enthroned thinker of the universe. We behold Him. His head and His hair white as wool, white as snow, and fall at his feet. Young ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class of 1915, we have confidence in you. We expect the best of you. We hope that all your future shall be such as to reflect the highest credit on your Alma Mater.

To this end, I crystalize all that has been said, and much more that might be said, in the apostolic prayer: "That your love may abound yet more and more, in knowledge and in all discernment; that ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ; being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God."

Boggs & Buhl's 46th anniversary

monday june 7th

marks the 46th milestone of this store

almost a half century devoted to the highest aims of store-keeping quality—lowest prices—wide assortments

THE ANNIVERSARY SALE will be for a week with important events scheduled for each day—a hand of welcome awaits the new friends as well as those who have been coming to this store for years--Opening Days of course, will be the best—even if you have to start early and come a long distance, and perhaps stay over night in Pittsburgh, it will pay you to come. This is an unconditional promise—we have been preparing to back up for months in a way that will surprise the most exacting value-giving seeker.

Over a half million dollars' worth of merchandise for this sale

Which, in a great many instances, was bought at prices that equal a veritable Birthday gift from the people we do business with—bought at prices that serve as an expression of appreciation of our business—every dollar's worth of merchandise we acquired in this way we in turn will place on sale during Anniversary Week at prices that represent little or no profit as we want our patrons to know, feel and appreciate how much we value and esteem their loyalty to this store—their patronage.

It takes months to prepare for a sale of this sort

We have been working on this sale for over three months—our representatives have visited every available market and manufacturers and importers have joined hands with us—entered into the spirit of this Anniversary Sale, and through their desire to assist us to make an unprecedented success of this occasion, have contributed some noteworthy lots of merchandise at a price that would strongly indicate their appreciation of the long years we have been buying goods from them, and so we can say to our lifelong friends, and many new friends, that never in the history of this store—or any other store in this broad land—have such remarkable values been offered as will be presented during this, our 46th Anniversary Sale.

The good old fashioned way of doing business is still in vogue here.

The modern "sharp and slick" way of doing business has never been a part of our business policy. We have stuck to the homely, good old fashioned way of buying goods at the lowest price and selling at the lowest price—of doing things as "straight as a string."

When this store invites you to a "Sale"—it's a "Sale" in the strictest sense of the word—and we back each event up in such a manner that there is not any doubt of our sale policy.

What this sale means to us: What it means to you:

In preparing for this—our 46th Anniversary Sale—we had just one thought in mind—we were determined to arrange a sale that would fittingly mark the occasion, and in addition would afford unprecedented values for all who come—values that would still further entrench this store in the estimation of our patrons—the buying public in general—values that would more than satisfy the thousands of patrons who have looked to this store for almost a half century to supply their needs.

Have we succeeded in doing all this?

We have—most assuredly we have—and the merchandise—the excellent quality—the large assortment and the low prices tell us, and will tell you—we have.

Different Departments will be featured each day—it will pay you to watch the papers.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by Hall's Catarrh Medicine.

TOLD IN MONESSEN

A Resident Known to all our Readers Relates an Experience

Readers of the Independent have been told again and again of the merits of that old reliable, time proved remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons living far away. The cases are Monessen cases told by Monessen people.

Mrs. R. Gilmore, 102½ First street, Monessen, says: "I suffered for years from a lame back and often when I stooped the misery was so intense that I cried aloud. If I moved suddenly, it seemed as if something snapped in my back. When I exerted myself in sweeping or doing housework, the pain was unbearable. I felt tired and listless all the time and my head ached. My eyes were effected and I was all worn out. I consulted several doctors but none of them seemed to do me any good, and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. Others of the family used Doan's Kidney Pills as a kidney tonic and think highly of them."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Gilmore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Harpooned That Law Journal Monopoly

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh vetoed the act passed by the legislature affecting counties of more than 100,000 population, which required the publication of all legal notices in the law journal of the county. This act would have affected about 20 counties, among them being Westmoreland, Fayette, Allegheny, Washington, Erie and Cambria.

Why shouldn't he veto it? Is there any reason why the law should enforce the publication of legal notices in any one paper? Such a law would be in strict violation of the constitution, it would be class legislation. Legislation to support a class of lazy lawyers who are neither printers or editors and who seek to live off the legal "pap" of a county. Governor, that's one place where your penning knife struck the right branch. This is a cruel old state for "legal journalists."

Local Case Settled By Jury In Greensburg

A legal tug of war came when several Greeks of Monessen engaged in a trial before Judge A. D. McConnell of Greensburg. John Bazistes and others represented by Attorneys Barnhart and Ankney, were the plaintiffs against David Daumit and others, represented by Attorneys Daniel Keamer and H. W. Waikinshaw, were the defendants. More than a year ago the plaintiff was the owner of a 10x14 store room in Monessen that was not working, and he rented to the defendant for $52.50 per month. The defendant and his associates engaged in the shoeshine and peanut business and had success at first. After a short time busines began to slack up and the defendant asked to have the rent reduced. It appeared from the testimony that some one failed to live up to the contract and finally the plaintiff brought suit to recover $175.50. The witness testified to quite a number of complications in the peanut business in the little store room. The jury after brief deliberation returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Great Interest In Evangelistic Services

The Taylor-Rush evangelictic campaign is growing in interest at the United Brethren church. Rev. Taylor last night took for his text, "A Profitable Business." Prov. 11:30. "He that winneth souls is wise." He emphasized the fact that a man had to be saved himself and know that he was saved before he would be able to save others. After a powerful sermon he asked the people to come to the altar, and almost everyone in the church came forward and asked God to lead them out into deeper and richer experiences. Mr. Rush in his usual way led the congregation in singing. The general comment on the part of the public as they leave the church is "isn't that singing great?" Mr. Rush is a very pleasing singer and his solo work is of superior quality. The theme for tonight is "The Secret of a Successful Revival." Acts 1:8. "Power for Service." Song service will begin at 8 o'clock sharp.

AUCTION LAND SALE.

Wilson Heights, North Charleroi, Known as the W. W. Piper Farm, Will be Sold to Suburban Homeseekers, Saturday, June 12th.

One of the best suburban lot sales ever presented to the people of this section will be the W. W. Piper farm, North Charleroi, all day Saturday, June 12th, when 100 large lots and small farms will be sold at auction to the highest bidders, on easy terms of payment.

This beautiful allotment, known as Wilson's Heights, is in the five cent carfare limit, on the Pittsburgh line, with electric and gas lines, state highway, abundance of water, etc. An ideal home settlement, out in the open. You can buy lots from 40x100 feet up to one fourth, one half, full acres and 5 and 10 acre farms. These choice properties will be sold on easy payments.

The sale will be conducted under the management of T. R. Winsheimer, the rapid fire suburban developer of Morgantown, W. Va., who is well known for his successful operations in this line all over the country.

You can buy lots in Wilson Heights and pay for them with the money now going to the landlord for rent.

Don't fail to attend this sale and make easy money, as these lots are bound to increase rapidly in value. One lot and gold watches will be given away, and there will be brass band concerts all day. Everybody cordially invited.

Wilson Heights can be seen from all this section. Mr. Piper has floated a fine silk flag 18x35 feet on the lot plan, which can be seen from Monessen and for miles around.
